

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This sort of strategy has devastating effects on and implications for our fragile democracy. We simply cannot stand by and let biased corporate interests create public opinion, not to mention a bias that is in their direct favor.

Sinclair is skating dangerously close to a precipice. If they are allowed to continue to promote those candidates they as a purported 'news' agency can not justly favor, then we can only seek redress through the FCC and hope for god's sake some of you are listening.
